

INDEX

TO

VOLUME L.

-
- 'Acts and Monuments of John Foxe, The,' 409.
'Adventures in the Air,' De Fonvielle's, 261.
'Agamemnon, The, of Æschylus,' Browning's, 232.
Annexation of the Transvaal Territory, 353.
'Annus Sanctus,' 224.
'Approaching End of the Age,' Guinness's, 459.
'Argument for the Immortality of the Soul,' Mr. William Law's, 145.
Ayton, Sir Robert's, Poems, 337.
'Basis of Faith,' Conder's, 88.
Beet on the Epistle to the Romans, 194.
'Beginnings of Christianity,' Fisher's, 199.
'Biblical Commentary on the Book of Job,' Delitzsch's, 368.
'Book of Job, The, Illustrated and Explained,' Carey's, 368.
Burma, past and present, 284; small extent of British Burma, 285; native and British rule, 287; Eastern despotisms, 289; English Administrators, 291; Burmese stoicism, 293; the capital and palace, 295; trade route to China, 297; physical features, 299; a ghost, 301.
'Christian Evidences in Relation to Modern Thought,' Row's, 265.
Christian theism, 88; scepticism in theology, 89; the basis of faith, 91; the eternal mind, 93; what is knowledge? 95; relativity of know ledge, 97; knowledge and belief, 99; anthropomorphic theism, 101; nature and revelation, 103; the Great Teacher, 105; theology and morality, 107; difficulties of atheism, 109.
'Commentary on the Book of Job,' Davidson's, 368.
Conditional Immortality, 145; the orthodox view, 147; advantages of the new scheme, 149; its difficulties in common with spiritualism, 151; ditto, in common with materialism, 153; features peculiar to itself, 155; the "element" of immortality, 157; is death a natural event or a judicial infliction? 159; survival and extinction of the wicked, 161; two contradictory meanings of death, 163; annihilation and the mercy of God, 165; the fate of the heathen world, 167; Christ's person and work, 169; good and evil angels, 171; sœnial life, 173.
'Critical and Exegetical Handbook to the Romans,' Meyer's, 78.
'Decay of Churches, The,' 211.
'Dialogues et Fragments Philosophiques,' Renan's, 45.
Didsbury Sermons, 174; fidelity to the atonement, 175; the true and only God, 177; theological preaching, 179; sound exposition, 181; uncertain texts, 183; homiletic art, 185; dealing with conscience, 187; tenderness, 189.
'Diseases of Modern Life,' Richardson's, 392.

- 'Early English Church History,' Bright's, 441.
 'Education, Intellectual, Moral, and Physical,' Spence's, 392.
 'Eternal Hope,' Farrar's, 464.
 'Expositor, The,' 1876—1878, 368.
 'Expositor's Commentary,' Neil's, 213.
 'Expository Essays and Discourses,' Cox's, 197.
 'Exposure of Popery,' Anderson's, 210.
 'First Report of Her Majesty's Commissioners Appointed to Consider the Reform of the Judicial Establishments, Judicial Procedure, and Laws of India, &c.,' 24.
 'For the Work of the Ministry,' Blaikie's, 212.
Foxe's Book of Martyrs, 409 ; the Reformation in England, 411 ; value of Foxe's work, 413 ; Foxe's conversion to Protestantism, 413 ; Foxe in exile, 417 ; his sermon at St. Paul's Cross, 419 ; his Reformatio Legum, 421 ; his life a refutation of his calumniators, 423 ; opinions of his contemporaries, 425 ; sources of the work, 427 ; his alleged credulity, 429 ; faults and excellencies, 431 ; martyrdom of Ridley and Latimer, 433, ditto, 435 ; ditto, 437 ; the present edition, 439.
 'French Poets and Novelists,' James's, 526.
 'Future Punishments of Sin, The,' Green's, 145.
 'Geoffrey Chaucer, Poetical Works of,' Bell's, 223.
 'George Eliot and Judaism,' Kauffman's, 262.
 'Health and Life,' Richardson's, 392.
 'Heralds of Salvation,' Moister's, 260.
 'History of England during the Eighteenth Century,' Lecky's, 302.
 'History of the Peace,' Martineau's, 527.
 'Holiday Rambles,' 263.
 'Human Life and its Conditions,' 473.
 'Inspiration of the Scriptures,' Elliott's, 202.
 'Ione,' 224.
 'Jésus, Renan's, œuvre abrégé,' 45.
 Job, The Book of, 368 ; the land of Uz, 369 ; a bargain for land, 371 ; Job and his servants, 373 ; the Mezbele, 375 ; dress, 377 ; the traveller, 379 ; deserted towns, 381 ; mining, 383 ; night and morning, 385 ; village scenes, 387 ; the city council, 389 ; the sentence against the thief, 391.
 'John Milton, Poetical Works of,' Masson's, 223.
 'John Wyclif,' Lechler's, 446.
 'John, Whom Jesus Loved,' Culross's, 486.
 Lamb, Charles and Mary's, 'Poetry for Children,' 224.
 'L'Antéchrist,' Renan's, 45.
 ' Latter-Day Lyrics,' 487.
 Laws of India, The, 24 ; chartered governments of the colonies, 25 ; English Acts of Parliament, 27 ; landed property among natives, 29 ; settlement of disputes, 31 ; constitutional law, 33 ; the Koran, 35 ; the Moguls—the Hedaya, 37 ; the Hindoo law, 39 ; the charters, 41 ; the royal commissions, 43.
 'Lectures on Preaching,' Dale's, 205.
 'Lectures on the First Epistle of Peter,' Smith's, 215.
Les Apôtres, Renan's, 45 ; Les Derniers Hommes Apostoliques, Renan's, 45 ; Les Origines du Christianisme, Renan's, 45.
 'Letters from Russia,' Count Moltke's, 528.
 'Letter to Dr. Pusey,' Harrison's, 214.
 'Life in Christ,' White's, 145.
 'Life and Remains of E. J. Armstrong,' Armstrong's, 220.
 'Life of Cavour,' De Mazade's, 216.
 'Life of Robert Raikes,' Gregory's, 250.
 'Life of Dr. Waddy,' 476.
 'Life of Milton,' Masson's, 497.
 'Life of Sir Titus Salt,' Balgarnie's, 522.
 'Missions in South Africa,' Holden's, 254.
 'Modern Aspects of Christian Evidence,' 265 ; new order of arrangement, 267 ; character of Christ, 269 ; characteristics of the Gospel, 271 ; contrasts, 273 ; miracles a priori probable, 275 ; evidence of St. Paul's Epistles, 277 ; rationalist

- theories, 279 ; nature of miracles, 281 ; inspiration, 283.
 'Modern Atheism,' Jenkins's, 88.
 'Modern Physical Fatalism,' Birks's, 88.
 'Molière et Bourdaloue,' Veuillot's, 258.
 M. Renan—the History of a Mind, 45 ; his duality of mind, 47 ; his boyhood in Brittany, 49 ; prayer to Pallas Athene, 51 ; the "ugly little Jew" has won, 53 ; selfishness succeeds, 55 ; modern French politics, 57 ; his estimate of Prussia, 59 ; to the poor philosophy is not preached, 61 ; the philosophic dialogues, 63 ; clinging to a conscious God, 65 ; nature cheats us into goodness, 67 ; abridgement of the Vie, 69 ; contradictions, 71 ; St. Paul's development, 73 ; Renan's works in four groups, 75 ; the evil of his early teaching, 77.
- 'New Ireland,' Sullivan's, 302.
 New Way of Writing English History, A., 302 ; picturesque writers mostly unfair, 303 ; the Whig triumph in 1715, 305 ; servants' vales, 307 ; marriage act, 309 ; degradation of literature, 311 ; Shakespearean revival, 313 ; value of an aristocracy, 315 ; Walpole no orator, 317 ; the incomes of the clergy, 319 ; penal laws not mitigated by the Whigs, 321 ; their foolishness, 323 ; Mr. Froude's explanation, 325 ; that meaningless phrase, the Irish race, 327 ; Cromwell in Ireland, 329 ; survival of the unfittest, 331 ; Lord Chatham, 333 ; growth of Wesleyan Methodism, 335.
- 'Novum Testamentum Graecæ,' Tischendorf's.
- 'Œuvres de Villon,' Lacroix's, 504.
 Order of Shakespeare's Plays,' Stokes's, 524.
 Origin and Development of Religious Belief,' Gould's, 455.
 Origin of Nations,' Rawlinson's, 209.
 Origin of the World, Dawson's, 207.
 Origin and growth of Sunday schools, 1 ; Steele's perverse widow, 3 ; Theophilus Lindsey and Mrs. Cappe, 5 ; society in the eighteenth century, 7 ; a disinterested editor, 9 ; an accidental meeting, 11 ; Stock versus Raikes, 13 ; Wesleyan efforts,
- 15 ; Cowper, Adam Smith, and Wesley, 17 ; Horace Walpole and "Saint Hannah," 19 ; Fanny Burney visits Robert Raikes, 21 ; palmarum qui meruit, 23.
- 'Pascal,' Tulloch's, 520.
 'Pensées,' Joubert's, 235.
 'Philochristus,' 452.
 'Physiography,' Huxley's, 247.
 'Picture Amateur's Handbook,' Daryl's, 264.
 'Poems,' Goethe's, translated by Dryden, 487.
 'Poetry of America,' Linton's, 487.
 'Practical Political Economy,' Price's, 508.
 'Progress of Divine Revelation,' Stoughton's, 478.
- 'Rambles and Studies in Greece,' Mahaffy's, 244.
- Reading and Rendering of Romans v. 1, 78 ; documentary evidence, 79 ; the alternative, 81 ; Ellicott and Alford, 83 ; Meyer's objection, 85 ; all truth is in harmony, 87.
- 'Reasons of Unbelief,' Drew's, 212.
 'Revolt of the Women, The,' 487.
 'Round about the Carpathians,' Crosse's, 518.
- 'Salvator Mundi,' Cox's, 197.
 Science of Health, The, 392 ; a subject of interest to all, 393 ; public hygiene, 395 ; air and life, 397 ; change of air, 399 ; alimentation, 401 ; alcohol, 403 ; work and play, 405 ; self-culture the end of study, 407.
- 'Scientific Bases of Faith,' Murphy's, 88.
- 'Scripture Doctrine of Future Punishment,' Horbery's, 469.
- 'Serpent of Cos, The,' 487.
- 'Seventeen Years in the Yoruba Country,' 252.
- 'Sheaf of Verse,' Hewlett's, 224.
- 'Side Lights on Scripture Texts,' Jacoz's, 483.
- Sir Robert Aytoun, 337 ; Burton's mistakes, 339 ; Provostship of Eton, 341 ; Mastership of St. Catherine's Hospital, 343 ; inscription on his monument, 345 ; satire, 347 ; love poems, 349 ; Burns improving Aytoun, 351.

- 'Songs of the Rail,' Anderson's, 224.
 'Sonnets of Michael Angelo, &c., Symonds's, 224.
 'Souvenirs d'Enfance,' Renan's, 45.
 Speaker's Commentary, The, Vol. IV., 368.
 'Statement, &c., India,' 24.
 'Statistics of Protestant Missionary Societies,' 24.
 'St. Paul's,' Renan's, 45.
 'Studies in Literature,' Dowden's, 500.
 'Survival, The,' 253.
 'Talkers,' Bate's, 262.
 'Theory of Logic,' Read's, 512.
 'Thirty-Nine Articles,' Miller's, 494.
 'Thoreau,' Page's, 256.
 'Tragedies of Vittorio Alfieri,' 487.
 Transvaal Territory, Annexation of The, 353; ruins, 355; Wesleyan mission at Thaba Nchu, 357; Dingaan, 359; Earl Grey's colonial policy, 361; the South African Republic, 363; Sir Theophilus Sheppstone's proclamation, 365; future prospects, 367.
 'Underground Jerusalem,' Warren's, 480.
 'Unknown Lover,' Goss's, 224.
 'Unworthiness of Eternal Life,' Allon's, 145.
 Vatican Council, The, 110; the great master, 111; the ceremonial, 113; the commission on proposals, 115; a "winning title," 117; drafts of decrees in dogma, 119; courageous dissentients, 121; the supernatural order, 123; the creed of Pius IV. recited, 125; definition of infallibility demanded, 127; Archbishop Darboy's speech, 129; Döllinger's protest, 131; threats of the Revolution, 133; hatred of Döllinger, 135; Cardinal Rauscher's petition, 137; question of catechism, the, 139; "I am tradition," 141; French pamphlets condemned, 143.
 'Vie de Jésus,' Renan's, 45.
 'Walks in Algiers,' Séguin's, 514.
 'Walks in London,' Hare's, 240.
 'Wise Men of Greece,' Blackie's, 237.
 'Zella, &c.,' Craig's, 224.

s, at
;
of is al
V. lipp
's nr,
n.
e.
ch

s,